

Candidates For Secretary

JOHN MOORE

The success of student administration depends on the coordination of council and executive with a firm knowledge of past operations in the field of student affairs. Thus, the desires to work and to face new problems with courage are the prime prerequisites of any executive member.

I firmly believe that our secretary must be prepared to give his utmost support to any union endeavours which may prove beneficial to the members of our campus community.

Should it be the choice of the students to elect me to this office, I shall do my utmost to fulfill these duties and responsibilities, and to gain greater understanding of all student activities and affairs.

Activities:

Public Relations Officer 1954-55.
Chairman, Varsity Guest Weekend 1955.
Football Parade marshal 1954.
Assistant Public Relations officer 1953-54.
Business manager, Varsity Guest Weekend 1954.
CUP editor, Gateway 1952-53.
Studio Theatre and Drama society 1951-53.
Touch football 1951-55.

ARCHIE RYAN

The secretary of the Students' Union cannot pretend to lay down policy. Policy can flow only from the direction of the student majority, within channels sanctioned by the university administration.

The duties of the secretary must be limited to working in close co-operation with his fellow councillors and the executive to ensure that matters before the council shall be dealt with to the best satisfaction of all interested parties.

Good public relations, more residence accommodation for married as well as single students, and the execution of plans for Stage Two of the Union building, are but a few of the problems falling as a legacy to the incoming council.

As a candidate for the position of Students' Union Secretary, I sincerely promise that the students body will "March With Arch" to a sound student government.

Activities:

McGoun debating team 1954-55.
Hugill debates manager 1954-55.
Drama society 1950-52.
University symphony 1950-53.
Curling, swimming, football.

STUDENTS VOTE FRIDAY FOR UNION POSITIONS

14 Candidates For Six Posts; Polls Open 9-5

Students go to the polls Friday to vote for four members for Students Council, plus candidates for several other positions.

This issue of The Gateway is devoted largely to presenting the candidates and their platforms.

Voting will take place in centrally located polls between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Polling booths will be located in the main campus buildings, including the Arts, Medical and Education buildings, and the nurses' residence.

All students must present campus "A" cards when voting. Ballots are of the preferential or transferable type, but a ballot is not spoiled just because the voter indicates his first choice only, either by "1" or "X".

Campaigning by the various candidates ends at midnight Thursday.

PRESIDENT JOHN BRACCO

Vice-President Candidates

RHONDDA EVANS

If elected vice-president, I shall:

1. Fulfill the executive and social duties of the position to the best of my ability.
2. Give wholeheartedly of my time and energy in supporting the activities of council.
3. Support the president and co-operate with the other council members.

It would be a very great honour and pleasure to represent you of the University of Alberta as your vice-president.

Activities:

Mixed Chorus 1951-52.
Students Christian Movement 1951-52.
MacLeod club executive 1954-55.
Interfaculty curling 52-53.
Students' council 1954-55.
NFCUS committee 1954-55.

CATHY SLEIGHT

The requirements of the vice-president of the Students Union are: To serve on Council in an executive capacity by assisting the president in the tasks of administration; to act as official hostess in all social functions of the student body; and to endeavour to further the interests of the student body as a whole by the exertion of maximum effort in council.

I am enthusiastic. I would consider it a real privilege to serve you on the Students Union Council.

Activities:

Students Section editor on the Evergreen and Gold.
Disciplinary, interpretation and enforcement committee.
Treasurer of Panhellenic society.
Public Speaking club secretary.
Mock parliament.
University Curling club.

SANDRA BAKER

1. I will endeavour to fill the office of vice-president and perform its duties to my utmost ability.

2. I will do my best to help make this year's council successful by active participation at all times.

3. I promise to study arising issues with the greatest of care.

Probably my major qualification for the post of vice-president is a sincere desire to contribute what I can to student affairs. This objective is, however, supported by substantial executive experience at the high school level, and active participation in extra-curricular activities during my first two years on this campus.

Activities:

Mixed chorus.
Women's Athletic association 1954-55.
Intramural sports.

BETTY-JEAN ROBERTSON

The first point in my platform is to encourage the current movement on the campus toward greater use of the Students Union building. Our organizations use the building at present but not to full advantage.

Secondly, I will endeavor to fulfill the social obligations entailed in the duties of the vice-president.

Thirdly, in addition to these duties, I will maintain my interest in the athletic program and work towards greater coordination of intramural and intersarsity sports.

Activities:

Class representative on the Commerce club 1953-54.
Curling manager on Women's Athletic association 1954-55.
Intersarsity curling and swimming.
Intramural volleyball, track and field, swimming.

DEADLINE NEWS

WILLSON WOODSIDE'S TALK CANCELLED

A talk by Willson Woodside, foreign editor of "Saturday Night", which was to have been made Thursday to the Political Science Club, has been cancelled. Mr. Woodside will address a meeting of the Institute of International Affairs Thursday night.

Weekend Afterthoughts

Varsity Guest weekend has come and gone. It has been a great success, and John Moore, public relations officer, and the Gold Key society, responsible for it, ought to be congratulated on the outcome of their hard work.

But the Guest weekend is not yet perfect; of course, it never will be. Several things occur to us that were missed.

There is a tendency to put the obvious things on display and neglect those that are a bit less usual. We understand, for example, that the faculty of dentistry made large exhibits of false teeth and the like, but did not display its work in pathology, in which field most of its research is done.

The arts faculty, as usual, was neglected completely. Not having something to offer which could be neatly pinned up to a bulletin board with a sign for the edification of the visitor, the arts professors did nothing that we know of.

They do not seem to realize that they have themselves to offer. Arts professors are for the most part people of intelligence and character, and we venture that they contribute as much to the university as most of the other faculties. They should be able, by giving, say, short talks at stated times, to present to the public some idea of what the arts faculty means and why it is in existence even though it does not turn out useful people like engineers or agriculturists.

Similarly, the campus student organizations that could show something tangible were given much inspection by the tourists. (We must admit we were quite flattered as crowds of people passed by our office—"there's the editor's office, and there's the editor." But as we could not swing by our tail from a light fixture, we did not receive any peanuts or bananas.)

But the clubs without an office were neglected. Why could we not have treated our visitors to a debate prepared by experts like John Bracco, John Chappel or Archie Ryan?

Yugoslavia In A Month

Titoland: Communist Heresy

"There is no doubting the integrity of the top leaders of Yugoslavia in their sincere desire to better the conditions of their countrymen." The speaker was a non-Yugoslav observer of some competence.

Something of this idealism was witnessed in the youth railroads constructed in 1946 and 1947. Built by volunteers these railroads along with some factories were evidence of a new creative morale. Of course there were ways of encouraging participation such as making railroad work a prerequisite for other employment. Still, in a spirit of patriotism and with the hope of a brighter future, sacrifices have been made that are indicative of an enthusiasm not present in most European countries.

Perhaps now is a good time to speak a word of humility. We were amongst a foreign people whose language we could not understand. We were in a conducted tour and perhaps missed much that was not included in our itinerary. Our tour took one month. It is then presumptuous to speak with any note of certainty for our knowledge is, of necessity, inadequate.

Admitting these deficiencies yet one is expected to speak, to pass on his experiences and conclusions. For we had at least an actual rather than a vicarious experience in what is largely an unknown country and is a Communist state.

Communism is only part of, or a method for, the expression of an intense nationalism in this Balkan country. The aim is to build a modern Yugoslavia. To achieve this they have adopted the principles of communism. With the aims of international communism they have sympathy perhaps but little real concern.

An evidence of the secondary role pure communism plays is seen in the major innovations the government has introduced into a program that originally was patterned upon the Soviet model. It was because of initiative shown in this manner that Stalin excommunicated his fellow-worker, Tito.

It seemed to us that Tito's government was a popular one and that in the event of a free election—which is not likely—his party would receive a substantial majority.

This is a view that is difficult to substantiate but it must be acknowledged that Tito's regime has made real contributions in the fields of education, health, social insurance, and the arts. The fact that he championed the "war of liberation" rallied to his support the majority of the people.

If Tito's is a supported regime this is something unique in the chain of communist dictatorships established in the eastern countries after the war.

This is not to say that modern Yugoslavia is an oasis of freedom. It is in this sphere, that of illegitimate police action, that a traveller has few opportunities to evaluate.

Certainly there are restrictions that are entirely foreign to us. Though forbidden by the constitution, postal censorship is practised. This to a Canadian is objectionable and unnecessary. The press is a government organ. The National Union of Students also.

For those willing to go along with the regime life is quite bearable. For those who oppose it there can be little satisfaction. In the government's defence I should mention that we were never forbidden or limited in any of our leisure time strolls. We went wherever we wished, without restriction.

Less than a million, about 5 per cent of the people are card-carrying members of the League of Communists. Membership within this group comes only upon evidence of sincerity and devotion to the principles and program of the League. Students must be of good academic standing to become members. Along with the League of Communists is the broader and larger Socialist alliance embracing about half of the population.

The Yugoslavs prefer to call the present organization of society there a "socialistic" one. The term "communism" is reserved for the future classless state.

In this "socialistic" state a westerner is struck by many similarities between his homeland and Yugoslavia. There are still "classes", there continue to exist a few who have more than the many.

Whether state capitalism is more just to the worker and more productive than private capitalism the future will tell. The essential ingredients of a social system are its people and people, upon acquaintance, are made of much the same character, fears, and desires everywhere.

These common characteristics that are the basis for one world are forgotten through the barriers of distance and differences of tongues, through nationalism, through incorrect attitudes generated by press and radio.

Some hope that the Yugoslav style of communism, already substantially different from the Soviet model, may evolve into a democratic socialism. That such might happen may be merely wishful thinking and is certainly just speculation at the moment.

Tito has perhaps surprised the West in his refusal to compromise or relinquish his communist principles in return for economic aid. He has demonstrated that coexistence is workable, indeed it is absolutely necessary for his small nation.

Finally, this government and social system have been in operation but ten years. It is a young nation and in fairness should be given a chance to overcome some of its growing pains before we judge it too severely.

5,000 Visitors Attend Guest Weekend Functions

More than 5,000 people were attracted to the University of Alberta campus during the three-day Varsity Guest weekend.

Displays, special performances of concerts and plays and teas were all visited by many guests.

Highlight of the weekend was the annual alumni "Homecoming Ball" held in the Macdonald hotel Friday night and attended by 1,000 people.

VARIED DISPLAYS

Displays set up in most of the campus buildings varied from an insect zoo in the Medical building to a magic tap in the Engineering building and a display of children's literature in the Education building.

The teas held during the three days served their purpose by supplying an opportunity for guests to relax and enjoy a cup of hot tea to counteract the cold.

VGW was officially opened Friday afternoon by Hon J. J. Bowlen at the opening tea held in the Wauneita lounge.

"PLAYBOY" DRAWS

"Playboy of the Western World" played to a capacity audience at the matinee performance Saturday. The special concert of the Mixed chorus Symphony were also well attended.

"Varsity Varieties" played to full-house audience for the three nights it was presented.

Bowlen Opens Guest Weekend Friday At Tea

The Hon. J. J. Bowlen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, officially opened Varsity Guest weekend Friday afternoon at a tea held in the Wauneita lounge.

Mr. Bowlen, the official visitor to Varsity Guest weekend, said it was a great pleasure to visit the university at all times. He said that he always found a friendly atmosphere on the campus.

Dr. Andrew Stewart thanked students for their work on the weekend and extended a welcome to visitors on behalf of the university. "The university is at your disposal this weekend and you should take the opportunity to see as much of the university as possible," he said.

Ald. Dr. R. M. Clare extended an official welcome to guests from the city of Edmonton.

Chancellor E. P. Scarlett, in his address, stressed the values a university offers. He said that university is a place where young people can learn conduct by association and example.

Bob Edgar, president of the Students' Union, reviewed the history of VGW. John Moore, public relations officer, was master of ceremonies.

Members of the receiving line were Mrs. E. P. Scarlett, Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. W. H. Johns, Mrs. C. M. McLeod, and Margo Falk.

The ceremony was recorded by Radio society and broadcast over CKUA.

To Debate Beard Wearing

"Resolved that men should wear beards" is the topic for a semi-final Huggill debate to be held at 4:30 p.m. Thursday in room 148, Arts building.

Al Cooke and Louis Faber, both law 1, will argue in the affirmative, while Ian Farquharson and Louis Hyndman, both arts 2, will oppose the resolution.

The winning team will contest for the Huggill trophy at the final debate of the year.

Nominations Deadline Friday For EUS Posts

Lou Schneider, engineer 2, and Roy Mutter, engineer 2, were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the Engineering Students society in very light voting Friday.

No nominations were made for the position of athletic representative, and it is thought that the decision to appoint someone to the post will be left to the incoming executive, Jim Tod, retiring ESS president, said Sunday.

Next year's president, Hugh Atkins, engineer 3, was elected by acclamation.

500 Couples At Alumni Ball Honor '30 Class

Nearly five hundred couples attended the fourth annual Alumni Homecoming ball at the Macdonald, Friday night. University graduates from all over the province and from outside points turned out in force to mingle with college chums and sing "Happy Anniversary" to the class of 1930, in the homecoming spotlight this year.

Among the special guests were Lt.-Gov. J. J. Bowlen, ball patron Dr. E. P. Scarlett, chancellor, who presented silver ash trays to all members of the class of '30; Dr. Andrew Stewart, president of the university, and Bob Edgar, president of the Students Union.

Kenneth Madsen, president of the General Alumni association, acted as master of ceremonies for the intermission entertainment, which included three numbers by the varsity band of 1930 and introduction of the class of 1930. A "frosh trio", wearing initiation regalia, was finally revealed as Dr. Wilbur Bowker, dean of law; Donald Cameron, director of the department of extension, and M. E. Manning, local lawyer, who were all members of the silver anniversary class.

Decorations were by Prof. H. G. Glyde and students of the department of fine arts.

Bracco To Meet Students; Promises Nothing

"Though I won't be making any promises," president-elect John Bracco, law 2, said Sunday, "I want to meet as many students as possible and find out their problems. I was disappointed that I did get in by acclamation. It seems to me that elections add to campus spirit and for that reason acclamations are bad."

To offset this, Bracco plans to attend the election meetings to meet officials of faculties, residences and fraternities and to discuss their problems.

Bracco was born in Edmonton, is married and taught in Strathcona high school for four years.

Active in campus activities, he was awarded a cultural "A" pin this year. He was also law representative on council and vice-president of the law club this term. A member of the Alberta McGoun debate team for the past two years and winner in the Huggill debates in 1954, he was president of EUS in 1948-49.

Wauneita Secretary-Treasurer

ELIZABETH COLQUHOUN

The position of secretary-treasurer of Wauneita involves more than the mechanics of keeping minutes and financial records. As candidate for this position, my platform includes the following:

1. To further the excellent work carried on by previous Wauneita committees in welcoming frosh to the campus, and in attempting to establish a closer unity among all Wauneita members.

2. To encourage additional social functions such as the International Tea for World University Service held this year.

My earlier experience as secretary for the administration at the University of Toronto before enrolling at the University of Alberta has given me the background necessary to carry out the technical duties of this office. In my two years on the campus I have served on various Wauneita committees and in addition held an executive position as commentator for the student Radio society.

FRAN LOSIE

A candidate considering the position of secretary-treasurer of the Wauneita society should bear in mind the following points.

1. To carry on the work, initiated this year in establishing a record of previous committee work, to assist future planning committees.

2. To work towards a revitalized program of better and lasting relationship between senior girls and freshettes.

3. To promote better publicity for all Wauneita activities.

4. To promote a greater degree of co-operation and organization within the executive itself.

Because of my experience as education representative on Wauneita this year, I feel I have a working knowledge of the problems that the incoming executive will encounter. If elected I will assist in making Wauneita a more successful and vital organization.

The "No Smoking" signs in the lobby of the Rutherford library do not apply to non-smokers, it has been learned. Special signs may be put up for them later.

WAUNEITA PRESIDENT

IMOGENE WALKER

The aim of the Wauneita society is to build a common bond between all girls on the campus.

Our most important objectives are the same as those of the Wauneita society 30 years ago. These are the welcoming of freshettes to the university campus in the fall, and the drawing of the co-eds into a common fellowship through the activities of the Wauneita society.

My platform is a warm welcome for freshettes and well-organized activities that you will want to attend throughout the whole year.

Activities:

Students' Christian Movement cabinet 1950-52, 1954-55.
University Christian mission committee.
Secretary CCF club.

RUTH GEDDES

The Wauneita society is of particular importance in the introduction of the new student to varsity life, with the idea that she is welcome and an important factor in the working of the campus.

It is my sincere hope that should you decide that you would like me for your president, that I will endeavour to carry on the very commendable work of last year's executive and help to make Wauneita a society that will prove to be interesting and beneficial for every woman student.

Activities:

Vice-president of Freshman executive 1952-53.
Nurses' editor of the Evergreen and Gold 1953-54.
Executive of Macleod club 1954-55.
Mixed Chorus 1952-53.

COLLEEN ANDERSON
Wauneita Vice-President

PRESIDENT OF MUSICAL DIRECTORATE

GEORGE LANGE

If I have the honor of being elected to this office on Students' Council, there are several things which I believe will require my attention.

1. Our University symphony gave an excellent concert this year. Unfortunately the audiences were very small. By holding their concerts at least a week earlier so as not to conflict with certain other activities, and by allowing an enlarged advertising budget, this situation could be remedied.

2. There are many students on our campus having musical talent who never receive an opportunity to perform. I believe Frosh Week would be an excellent time to find out who these people are, and then, through the Musical club or Radio society, let them show their talent.

3. It may be possible to form our long-awaited pep band during the next year. If we are able to secure a leader, I believe this group may become a reality.

Due to the fact that there have been so many acclamations this year, it is now necessary that every student make an extra effort to vote in order that we may have the strongest possible Council representatives.

STUDENT NIGHT

The education faculty's student night will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. Marion Gourlie, the exchange student from Connecticut, will speak on her impressions of Alberta, with a special emphasis on education.

STEVE PEDERSEN

With the possible exception of the Mixed chorus, a great lack of interest is shown towards the musical organizations on this campus. The attendance at the Sunday afternoon Musical club concerts, of which there are only six a year, leaves much to be desired.

There should be enough people coming to these programs to fill Convocation hall instead of half-filling the mixed lounge in the Students Union building. The attendance at the recent Symphony orchestra concert, this year as last, is even worse. The paucity of the crowds supporting these organizations has a very discouraging effect upon the performers, not to mention making it very difficult for the organizations to meet their budgets, a definite threat to their existence.

For the past two years I have been a member of all three organizations, being on the executives of Musical club and symphony this last year. I feel that because of this experience, I am well aware of the workings of all three organizations, and thus qualify to be their voice on council.

If I am elected president of the musical directorate, my first responsibility, starting in September, will be to attempt to create greater student interest and participation in musical organizations on the campus, by working in close alliance with the executives of the organizations and presenting their problems and difficulties for discussion in students' council.

BRANDON SINKS HUSKIES

BEARS WIN WIHL HOCKEY

Brandon College Caps upset the visiting University of Saskatchewan Huskies 7-4 in a Western Intercollegiate hockey game Friday night. The win was the first of the season for Brandon.

Caps' victory gave the Golden Bears the league championship, and the Hardy cup, as Huskies had to win the contest in hopes of tying the Bears, who completed their eight-game schedule two weeks ago.

Brandon ended the league schedule with an 8-5 win Saturday night against the same Huskies, consolidating Alberta in first place, two

Bisons Split With Bears To Take WIAU Championship

By John Semkuley

University of Manitoba Bisons gained their first Western Intercollegiate Athletic Union basketball championship in eight years as they split a weekend doubleheader with the University of Alberta Golden Bears. They dropped the opener 63-62, but came back strongly to take the second game 51-44.

Played as part of the Varsity Guest weekend program, the two games provided capacity crowds at Victoria Composite gym with thrilling basketball.

Manitoba finished the season with a 7-1 record, while Alberta had a 5-3 standing. The third entry in the league, the University of Saskatchewan Huskies, finished the league in last place as they failed to win a game, while losing eight.

FRIDAY GAME

First game saw the Bears led to victory by Oscar Kruger and Norm Macintosh, with 20 and 18 points respectively.

Jim Wright, with 22 points, was high for the Manitoba quintet.

The game-winning margin for the Bears was provided by Dave Steed, as he scored a jump-shot with only one minute left in the game. Manitoba had a great opportunity to deadlock the score in the final 15 seconds as the Bisons' captain Larry Jansen was fouled.

TRY TIP-IN

After scoring the first try, the strategy appeared to be to set the second shot up for a possible tip-in and a one-point lead. However, the Bison strategy backfired as Alberta's Macintosh took the rebound and the Bears hung on till the final gun.

In the last three minutes the score was deadlocked six separate times, until Macintosh and Steed scored back-to-back baskets to ensure an Alberta victory.

Half time score was 33-31 for Alberta.

SATURDAY GAME

In the second game, the Bison withstood a last-minute drive by the Golden Bears to gain possession of the Rigby trophy.

Once again the Bisons were led by their high scoring centre Jim Wright, who scored 12 points. Dave Smith added 10.

Derril Butler was high man for the Bears with 12 points.

BEARS LEAD

As in the first encounter, the Bears jumped into an early lead and appeared to be on their way to victory. However, the Manitoba crew gradually gained control of the play and forged into a 16-15 lead with 11 minutes gone in the half.

In the second half, the Bisons maintained control of the game with a tight zone-defence and sharp ball-control tactics. They slowly widened their lead to 14 points as both Al Tollestrup and Norm Macintosh of the Bears fouled out.

With three minutes left on the game, Alberta suddenly caught fire and quickly narrowed the deficit to seven points. However, Manitoba regained control, and held the seven-point margin to the end.

Free throws:

The two technical fouls called against the Bisons in the first game probably cost them the game.

Likewise the technicals against the Bears in the second game seemed to upset the team. The Bears bench was in high spirits during Friday night's game, but was sadly lacking spirit Saturday. Both teams seemed under strain in the crucial final game but Manitoba, sparked by its two mighty mites, Dave Fraser and Bob Rodgers, weathered the storm. Dick Robertson of the Bisons is the same Robertson signed by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers to a try-out contract for the 1955-56 grid season.

Coach Bud Fraser was all smiles after the final game, and his Manitoba charges should again be a powerhouse next year. Lou Goodwin of Calgary was brought up to officiate the series with Ed Tomick. Three Bears returned to their former haunts of Victoria Composite high, Don Currie, Jim Munro, and Oscar Kruger. The 22-point effort of Jim Wright in the first game clinched the unofficial scoring title for him. Both teams were guilty of poor shooting in the second game.

Scoring Summaries:

First Game:

Manitoba: Jansen 4, Wright, John 10, Robertson 10, Douglas 3, Cooper, Wright, Jim 22, Smith 5, Redmond, Fraser 8, Rodgers. Total: 62.

Alberta: Currie, Munro, Macintosh

18, Tollestrup 9, Smith, Kruger 20, Tweddle, Dewar 4, Kenyon, Steed 2, Ghitler, Butler 10. Total: 63.
